

CASE STUDY

I know a friend who is unemployed. He has a vast knowledge but due to his due his negligence he lost his job. Now no company comes to offer him a job. I actually do not what happened to his job. But I came to know that he didn't return his project in time. So, I can say he lost his job due to lack of time sense.

It has happened to me many times. I lost marks in exams for very simple questions due to inability to manage time. So, time is very precious. We can get back our money anyhow but we cannot get back the that passed away. Everyone keeps postponing their tasks to next time and waste their present time. But they should remember that lost time never returns.

Time is a greatest gift in our life. We should make use of it. As it passes, it teaches many lessons. So, we should not waste the time. We can learn the time management skills by taking the help of elders. We should listen the words of elders that can save our time by many times because they tell us from their experience.

So, build up with the help of others and avoid mistakes.
